Cardinalli's Carnival O'Cult- Although Primo has worked on a variety of illustrations for paperback novels, comics, and trading cards, he finds his true calling to be creating bright and bold artwork directly for his fans and private collectors. Specializing in Horror and Sci-Fi characters from classic films, he puts his life-long passion for these films into his work every day. Beyond the mainstays of the genre, one can look to Primo for a fine selection of the quirky and obscure characters that populate your favorite B pictures. As the Ringmaster of "Cardinalli's Carnival O' Cult", Primo's creations now include not only traditional canvas paintings but also found object art on everything but the kitchen sink (not yet, anyway). Primo says, "I like to take broken, unwanted, and discarded things and make them fun and interesting again." He is also the creator of the classic monster inspired board game Angry Villagers. Check out what the Ring Master has to offer at Keiser Super Con.
